

6516204832.txt

I enjoy satellite radio because it not only provides quality services including instant geographic traffic and weather channels that are not available in regular programming, it also provides a broader variety of music that appeals to my diverse taste. Therefore, if limitations are made to traffic and weather channels, what limitations will be next?